

NEW EVOWEB INTERFACE

Dear customer,

Starting February 1st (02/01/2016) a new web interface for consulting statistics will be available. These changes will help you further benefit from the data acquired by your products.

Due to these changes, you may encounter a temporary decline in the website's efficiency during navigation between January 28 and February 1st.

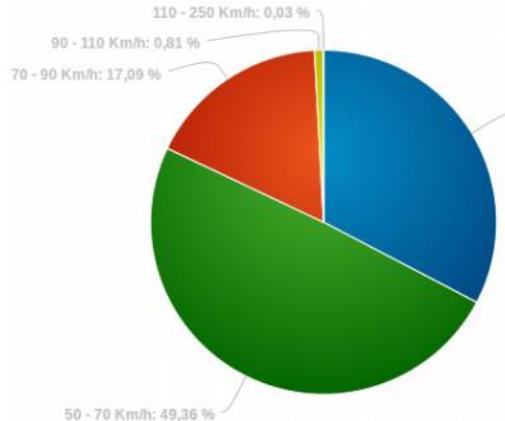

To help you discover all of the new functions, a user's manual will be available to download on the website <http://www.elancite.fr> starting January 25th 2016.

Here's a peak into some of our new features:

Your home page...

Quickly view your most essential statistics

graphics and charts

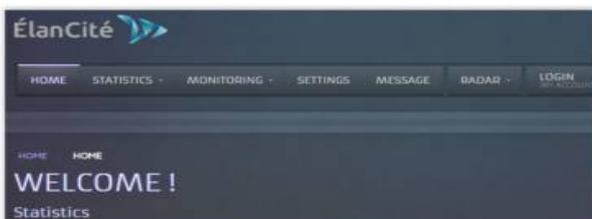

Graphics that automatically adapt to the requested time period

Make your own data reports

You may directly generate your reports in PDF form with product photos, comments, etc...

Smart

A re-designed web interface

The interface has been revamped to offer a more comfortable navigation experience, including larger graphics for easy reading.

A multi-user website

Multiple users will now be able to login to the website; no longer necessary to share a user ID. And you will also be able to track all user logins and activity on the website.

New graphics

Percentile graphs are now available, amongst other types, such as "the average day" chart which will allow you to more precise traffic analysis.
